

Stories in Stone Field Trips!

Our flagship field trip program, Stories in Stone, is a place-based archaeological experience designed for students, 4th grade and up, to engage with the rich cultural and natural history of southwest Idaho. Students will immerse themselves in the landscape of Idaho's first archaeological park—Celebration Park. This field trip is available from April through October.

This field trip will immerse students in exciting outdoor programs. This includes a petroglyph tour, which explores the park's petroglyph collection, a Native American lifeways presentation, a hunting lesson on the atlatl range, and a walk through Idaho's mining history during a scenic tour of the historic Guffey Bridge.

Our interpretive programs allow students to connect to place through exploration, observation, and hands on experience. They will leave with a better understanding how ancient cultures and lifeways of southwest Idaho relate to their own lives today.

Please visit <https://www.canyoncounty.id.gov/field-trips> to schedule!
Questions? Please email us at: parksprograms@canyoncounty.id.gov.