

Wildland Fire Field Trips!

Our Wildland Fire field trip program is a placed-based ecological experience designed to teach students grades 5+ about how they interact with fire in the natural ecosystem of Idaho, the sagebrush-steppe.

This field trip includes an ecology hike to explore the park's fire regime and a fire science lab to learn about fire behavior. Students will also attend a wildland firefighting presentation, where they learn about wildland firefighting tools and methods. In case your students are wondering, they will get to try an atlatl on the atlatl range, a Celebration Park favorite.

This four-hour field trip takes place at scenic Celebration Park and is led by our interpretive team. Students will leave with a better understanding of how wildfire regimes relate to their lives in Idaho. While this program teaches fire safety, it also explains the impacts of fire in our local ecosystem.
